

Gaal has progressive values

To the editor:

I urge my fellow Monroe County citizens to vote for Chris Gaal for Circuit Court judge. Chris has the experience, character and knowledge to be an excellent judge.

He has served as Monroe County prosecutor since 2007, fighting crime. In his 20-year legal career, Chris also has defended those accused of crimes, handled family law cases and civil cases while in private practice. His depth of experience in all areas of the law will help Chris make good decisions in the wide range of cases he will be presented with as a Circuit Court judge.

As judge, Chris Gaal will listen. He will treat people with respect and make impartial decisions based on the evidence presented and on the rule of law. Chris is a problem solver who has been actively involved in the community. He brings his progressive values to the bench.

In particular, in criminal cases, he will be focused on prevention/education, rehabilitation and problem-solving resources, such as family and drug courts. As a trial lawyer, it is important that Chris has trial experience. More importantly, though, Chris has consistently demonstrated good judgment in his service to the community. Vote Chris Gaal for Monroe Circuit Court judge.
